Scenes from the Blizzard

One of the highest banks in town ran down the middle of the 100 block on 20th Street until it veered to the east and ran up to the eaves. It provided a fine place for children to play. The first order of business Monday morning downtown was shoveling snow off the sidewalk so customers could get to the stores, just as Ralph Green is doing here in front of the Canyon Drug. It was fairly easy to walk most everywhere in town Monday afternoon after the thaw.

Seeping-wet snow driven by winds of full hurricane force paralyzed the entire Panhandle of Texas from late Saturday until nearly midnight Sunday when the snow stopped, causing an as-yet unknown amount of damage, inconvenience to hundreds of travelers and at least 11 deaths. None of the deaths occurred in Randall County although more than 50 persons were stranded along the highways in the county. Rescue forces worked steadily from the time the snow closed in until the highways were cleared Monday. Drifts piled around

Livestock Loss High from Storm

A final count of how much livestock was killed during the blizzard over the weekend will not be known for several days, but indications now are that it may run extremely high.

All over the county, reports have told of cows suffocated and caught in sheds, chickens smothered inside chicken houses and pigs and sheep buried under drifts.

Cattle which drifted with the wind have scattered far from home and it may be more than a week before all have been found and returned to the right places.

County Agent John Brazzil said almost every farmer he has talked with since the snow has told of livestock lost. "Almost everyone has one or two or three head of cattle dead," he said.

One of the heaviest reports received Tuesday was of 35 purebred Holsteins killed, those which belong to Bill and Harold Martin. Other cows are believed to be buried in snow in a shed.

The Martins had 92 Holstein milk cows and another 68 head of cattle. Tuesday morning only 62 had been found. The rest are presumed to be scattered.

Brazzil said Bob Lindsey had reported 40 calves killed and he had not been able to search his entire place at the time of the report. Walter Graham lost one bull and 17 calves that he knew of Monday night, and was out Tuesday looking for more cattle which were missing.

Brazzil estimated that the loss from cattle alone might run well over 150 head. "There's just no way of telling now," he said. "It'll be the end of the week before we have a good idea."

School Absentee Voting Thursday

The names of four candidates will appear on the ballots for the election of two members of the Canyon Independent School District. The time for filing ended at midnight Tuesday.

The election will be held April 6 with the polling place at the city hall. On the ballot are Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Mrs. Clay Cooper, Newton Crain and Kenneth Erwin.

Absentee voting will begin Thursday morning and will end Tuesday. Absentee votes may be cast in the county clerk's office.

Highway Stranded

The wet snow was perfect for making snowmen, and they grew quickly Monday morning only to fade away in the hot sun.

houses, trees, barns and fences, sometimes reaching as high as the eaves of houses. A series of drifts from four to eight feet high closed Highway 60 west out of Canyon and smaller drifts blocked the Amarillo highway and Highway 87 to Happy.

The heaviest damage in Randall County came from the loss of livestock, with estimates of dead cattle running well over 100. The heaviest loss reported was a known 35 head of purebred Holstein milk cows owned by Harold and Bill Martin. Yesterday morning, it was not known if more had died in the storm as a shed filled with snow was believed to contain several more head of Holsteins.

The exact amount of snow that fell in this area was not known, although it was believed that as much as 10 to 12 inches fell. The snow was extremely wet, with moisture measurements running as high as .16 of an inch of moisture from one inch of snow.

One rain gauge in Canyon showed only .14 of an inch of moisture, but very little of the wind-driven snow got into the gauge. The snow did not stick to the level ground, but drifted and piled where buildings or other objects broke the force of the wind.

The storm was cited as the worst ever in this area for this late in the year. Oldtimers remembered a blizzard in 1912, known as the "Black Blizzard" because of the dirt included with the snow, but it occurred earlier in the year and did not last as long.

The weekend blizzard began Friday with heavy winds and spitting snow. Earlier Friday afternoon, .14 of an inch of moisture fell in a shower on Canyon.

The wind and snow continued Friday night, all day Saturday and through until Sunday night when the snow stopped. The wind continued in lower velocities until Monday morning.

Stranded in Canyon during the storm were members of area high school bands who had come here for solo and ensemble competition in the Interscholastic League music contests and representatives of 17 high schools here for the annual Personality Pageant at the college.

In addition, motorists stranded in their cars were brought to Canyon by highway department crews, peace officers and rescue trains run by the Santa Fe. Some 16 passengers of a New Mexico Transportation Company bus stalled about halfway between Canyon and Umpqua were brought in by a Santa Fe relief train Sunday night.

The bus was in the drifts for 26 hours before the passengers and driver were brought to town. When they were rescued, the bus had fuel for about 1½ hours more, and the passengers were able to stay warm while waiting for rescue.

A National Guard truck had attempted to get to the bus, but had been stopped by drifts.

A Santa Fe train, headed west, had stopped for the bus Saturday night, but the passengers felt the storm would stop soon and did not catch the train. "We felt pretty good about it all at that time, and even felt good Sunday morning. But by the middle of the afternoon we were really worried," one passenger said.

At West Texas State, an estimated 175 high school students and sponsors were housed in dormitories during the storm. Others were kept in private homes in Canyon.

The majority of those who stayed here were contestants from Borger, Phillips, Stinnett and Spearman. Because of the driving snow Sunday, food was sent to the dormitories from the college cafeteria.

The Santa Fe's attempts, and final success, in operating rescue trains was cited by Sheriff L. S. Johnston as a good example of the cooperation of the people of this area in helping those in trouble.

A freight train headed for Amarillo was stalled and snowed in as it was going up the Canyon hill. A second train, also headed toward Amarillo, was stopped at the west edge of Canyon and the four-section diesel engine was cut loose.

The engine went to the rear of the stalled train and tried to pull it loose, but was unsuccessful. Sheriff Johnston contacted the dispatcher in Amarillo for permission to use the engine as a rescue train, and it was granted.

The sheriff called 15 Canyon men to go along with the train to help reach stranded cars, and they all reported, he said. The engine, (Cont. on Back Page Section 1)

School Must Make Up Two Days Lost on Schedule During Storm

Two school days lost during the tail end of the snow storm, Monday and Tuesday, will probably be made up at Easter and at the end of the school year, Supt. Joe Gibson said this morning.

He said the exact time had not been set yet, but most likely one of the days will be made up at Easter, when a two-day vacation had been planned, and the second will be made up at the end of the regular school year.

He said that attendance was off at school today as many children who live on bus routes were unable to get to the busses. Supt. Gibson said the busses ran as far as they could on the routes and many parents brought their children to that point.

Others brought their children to school this morning, he said. "I know there were plenty who could not even get to the busses," Supt. Gibson said.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cavitt of Dumas spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Ruth Hill.

Tax Office Open 'Til 5 Saturday

Snowstorm or no snowstorm, 1957 license plates must be on all cars by April 1, and 5 p. m. Saturday will be the last time they can be purchased before April 1.

The tax office in Canyon and the branch office in Amarillo will both remain open until 5 p. m. Saturday, Bill Money, tax assessor-collector, said Tuesday.

Sales of the plates have been lagging, and a great number of car owners in Randall County will be forced to stand in long lines if they do not act quickly.

Services Today For Mrs. Webb

Final rites for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Webb will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. today in the First Christian Church with Joseph Findley and Dr. J. A. Hill officiating.

Pallbearers will be Oscar Hinger, W. A. Miller, J. B. Roberts, W. B. Harris, Floyd Tomlinson and Marion Higdon. Burial will be in Dreamland Cemetery under direction of Warren-LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Webb, 79, died early Sunday in her home. She had been ill a considerable length of time.

She was born March 9, 1878. Survivors include her husband, G. W. Webb; a daughter, Mrs. Carroll Southern, Sanford; two sisters, Mrs. Ellie Posey, Hereford, and Mrs. Al Key, Wichita Falls; and a brother, Abb Fuqua, Hereford.

Rain Moisture At 1.66 Inches

Rain all day Wednesday and a shower on Friday before the snow storm raised the moisture total for this year to 2.66 inches, and a possible inch of moisture from the snow raised the total higher.

Until 6 p. m. Wednesday, the rain that day totaled .91 of an inch, and an additional .10 fell during the night.

Friday's shower brought .14 of an inch. The moisture total for March, excluding that which came from the snow, is 1.15 inches.

Conduct Services For Mrs. Hubbard

Final rites for Mrs. Ollie Hubbard, mother of Bernice Hubbard of Canyon, were conducted Thursday in the Wheeler Methodist Church. Burial was in the Wheeler cemetery.

Mrs. Hubbard, 80, died Wednesday in the home of a daughter, Beulah Hubbard, in Amarillo. She had lived in Wheeler prior to moving to Amarillo in 1955.

In addition to her son here and her daughter in Amarillo, survivors include two other daughters, another son, three brothers, a sister, nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Derailed Engine

Santa Fe diesel engine No. 192 was derailed just at the north edge of Canyon as it was trying to get onto the main line for a mercy trip to pick up stranded motorists. It had been pulling a freight train that was left standing at the west edge of the city. The engine was pulled back onto the track Monday afternoon.

Charge Amarillo Men in January $85 Robbery of Harwood Grocery

Two Amarillo men have been arrested and charged with the armed robbery of Harwood's Grocery on Jan. 18.

One has been arraigned on the charge and is in the Randall County jail. The second was arrested in Anadarko, Okla., and is there awaiting extradition.

They were identified by Canyon Chief of Police Ralph Pray as Charles Norman Adams, 24, who is in jail here, and Frank Donald McBee, 18.

Bond was denied Adams when he was arraigned by County Judge Roy Joe Stevens.

Chief Pray said Adams is an ex-convict and is presently out on $2,000 bond in Potter County for theft.

Adams was arrested Saturday morning in Amarillo, while McBee was arrested in Oklahoma. Both have been identified by Hack Harwood from pictures and Adams was identified in person.

The arrests came after Chief Pray had issued pickups for the two. He said he was able to solve the case by watching the reports of persons who had been involved with the law in other cities.

The chief said he had seen the two names together in the lineup of legal action in Amarillo and remembered Adams from earlier contacts. Adams has "TEX" tattooed on his knuckles, the same as Harwood had reported one of the robbers.

In the robbery, two men held up Harwood, forced him to lie behind the meat counter while they took money from the cash register. Several customers came into the store while the robbers were there, and the two waited on the customers.

In all, the holdup men took $85 from the store.

Voting Tuesday On Senate Race

Polls will open Tuesday morning in the 13 Randall County precincts for the election of a U. S. Senator to fulfill the remainder of the term to which Gov. Price Daniel was elected in 1952, and resigned this year.

Some 23 candidates will be listed on the ballot. Absentee balloting will end at midnight Friday.

Political Clubs To Stage Rally

The Young Democrat and Young Republican Clubs of Randall County will join to present the programs of the six major candidates in the race for the U. S. Senate at 8 p. m. Friday night in the Student Union at West Texas State.

The public is invited to attend the meeting to hear the views of the candidates. To be discussed are the platforms of Searcy Bracewell, Ralph Yarborough, Martin Dies, James Hart, Thad Hutcheson and John C. White.

A social has been planned following the candidate discussion.

Spring Was Here

When the snow first began piling up Saturday morning, it banked around blooming jonquils and held firmly to branches of shrubs. Before the storm was over, the snow covered the flowers, nipped fruit blossoms and set our spring back a few days.

Views and Comments

Pete Cowart got a letter last week from a youngster in New York asking for a list of things unusually hard to get hold of. The youngster wanted "facts on Texas and its surrounding cities, pictures on Texas its surrounding cities, and a map on Texas and its surrounding cities."

Pete sent the pictures along. He didn't say whether the pictures were of Texas or its surrounding cities.

One thing a lot of professional do-gooders seem to forget is that faith and hope are supposed to walk alongside charity.

Next Tuesday there will be an election allowing the voters of the state to express their choice for one of 22 candidates who are trying to win the office of U. S. Senator.

Just about any point of view can be found in the background and platforms of the great number of candidates. The voters have about as wide a choice as could be expected.

However, most political observers think that only six of the candidates have much chance to win—five Democrats and one Republican. The Republican, Thad Hutcheson, is the choice of the Republican party of the state, although another Republican has announced.

The five Democrats who might have a good chance of winning are three liberals, Ralph Yarborough, John White and James Hart, and two conservatives, Martin Dies and Searcy Bracwell.

By inclination a conservative, I have two choices, it seems to me—a choice between Dies and Bracwell.

Dies has had considerable experience in Washington and his star shone brightest prior to World War II, when he led the fight against Communist infiltration in the United States. The Texas Congressman-at-large is now in his second term in the House as far as seniority is concerned. As well known as he is, he could most probably be returned from his home district if Texas is redistricted, and his seniority would continue to grow.

It seems to me that it would be better for the people of Texas to keep Dies in his present spot—it would work to our advantage in the long run.

By a process of elimination, that leaves Bracwell. But the state senator from Houston can be picked on a much better basis than that. He stands out, to my mind, on his record and his platform.

Bracwell stood out last year when he walked out of a Senate investigating committee because the other four members of the committee wanted to hold secret sessions to hush up the insurance scandals. Bracwell was chairman of the committee, and his action kept the hearings open.

Bracwell's philosophy of democratic government is worth thinking about. "Find out about your public servants and what they stand for before you elect them. After they are in office, it's generally too late," he says.

"General Sam Houston and his immortal Army didn't purchase our freedom at the battle of San Jacinto. They only made a down payment on it. We will enjoy freedom only as long as we keep up the payments."

And further, "The enforcement of law under a democratic system has always been and will ever be what the people want it to be. This is basic and fundamental. No court decision or injunction can alter the customs and traditions of our people."

Take a look at his stand on some of the problems facing our nation, the problems he will be helping to solve as a U. S. Senator.

On foreign policy: "I strongly advocate using every means, consistent with honor, to keep this nation out of future wars, both large and small. It is necessary that we develop a strong, consistent foreign policy which will gain the respect of both friend and foe. I favor the principle of the Bricker amendment."

On states rights: "The rights of the states are inherent and such principle is set forth in Article X of the Constitution. I will stoutly defend States Rights."

On foreign aid: "I am opposed to giving away money to foreign countries. We must carefully examine every foreign aid program in the light of its benefits to the United States. This nation cannot continue to support every project around the world."

On agriculture: "Surplus crops constitute one of our most complex domestic problems. I do not advocate any radical change in our government price support or soil bank program, but feel that the Congress must adopt a sound, long-range farm policy after thorough study."

On segregation: "I believe in segregation and the separate but equal policy in our public schools. Any attempt to have forced integration is in violation of the basic philosophy of our democratic process and an injustice to both races. This problem must be decided at the local level. I favor a bill in Congress limiting the injunctive powers of the Federal courts in segregation cases in order to 'slow down' the illogical enforcement of the Supreme Court decision."

On education: "I am opposed to the extension of Federal aid to local school districts. The administration of the public schools is the bedrock of local self-government and Federal aid usually brings with it Federal Control."

On the Supreme Court: "No nominee for the Supreme Court should be confirmed by the Senate unless he is qualified by broad judicial background. I will oppose the confirmation of any appointee unless he is an experienced jurist."

On economy and taxation: "Taxes are a burden to the people. They should only be levied in sufficient amount to provide for the economical administration of the necessary functions of government."

On communism: "Eternal vigilance should be maintained to make certain that enemies of our way of life are rooted out and deported from this country. No communist country should be allowed to benefit directly or indirectly from any of our foreign aid programs."

On natural resources: "The development of natural resources should be left to private industry, except in those rare cases where the Federal government and private industry work in partnership."

On industrial relations: "The Taft-Hartley law maintains a proper balance for bargaining between management and labor. It should be retained subject to minor amendments to relieve inequities."

On principle above party: "I will put principle above party on every issue and will have no reluctance to disregard party lines in the interest of Texas and the nation."

Next Tuesday I plan to vote for Searcy Bracwell, and I commend him to your attention. I believe he will be a U. S. Senator, and not a politically-ridden party hack.—BC

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

The tax folks have a lot of trouble with people who want to be head of a household during income tax filing period. The "head of a household" status cannot under any circumstances apply to a married couple for income tax purposes. Only unmarried persons can claim this status. The tax folks say don't claim that you are the "head of a household" unless you meet all the requirements set out in your income tax instructions.

Wonder if they still teach in the schools that the Pilgrim Fathers came to America in search of religious freedom? That's what I was taught.

It is only a half-truth; and a half-truth can be worse than an outright falsehood.

The Pilgrim Fathers did not believe in religious freedom—except for themselves. They were as intolerant toward those who disagreed with them as their persecutors had been toward them.

Why is a young man so sensitive about being young?

When I was editor of the Pig-gott, Ark., Brnner in 1920, I got into a controversy with the Rector Post and that paper commented:

"The young editor of the Banner should take a few doses of soothing syrup."

This shot really hit the target and I retorted:

"The young editor of the Banner is happy that he has nothing more serious the matter with him than can be cured by a few doses of a simple household remedy, whereas until science discovers a cure for lunacy the editor of the Post must remain in his present hopeless condition."

Still reminiscing: In 1921, when I went to Eastland to edit the Daily Oil Belt News, the old courthouse had an iron stairway and I used to run all the way from the first floor to the third floor, two steps at a time. I can't do that any more—the old courthouse isn't there.

"Oh, yes," replied Farmer Corn-tassel "though I don't see why then weather folks couldn't per-vide to keep it in the fields in-stead of letting it stray around muddin' up the roads."

Lawn Brown Patch Is Controllable

COLLEGE STATION—Brown patch is a rather common lawn disease in Texas. Most lawn grasses are susceptible but San Augustine lawns are most often attacked, says Extension Plant Pathologist Harlan Smith.

He says the disease starts as small spots in the lawn, but the circular brown areas spread rapidly and the grass soon takes on a dead appearance. Infected areas often regain their green color following changes in the weather, says Smith. Brown patch is most prevalent during humid weather on lawns with a dense turf when night temperatures remain 70 degrees F. and above.

To prevent the disease, Smith says to avoid overwatering at all times. If serious outbreaks of the disease occur, avoid watering during the late evening or at night and apply fungicides. The specialist recommends the use of Tersan, Semesan, Special Semesan, Kroniad, Calo-chlor or Actidione.

These chemicals, he adds, should be used in strict accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations, including precautions in handling them. Brown patch disease is caused by the same fungus which causes serious diseases in cotton, Irish potatoes and many other crops.

It lives in most soils regardless of the plants being grown and when conditions become favorable causes the disease outbreaks.

Roger Whealy Listed in Science 'Who's Who' for Outstanding Work

A West Texas State College chemistry teacher, Dr. Roger D. Whealy, has been listed in the 19th edition of "American Men of Science," the "Who's Who" of outstanding men and women in the fields of physical, biological and social sciences.

Professor and head of the WT department of chemistry, Dr. Whealy has been a member of the faculty here since 1947. More than 90 per cent of his students have continued study on graduate or higher levels in schools of medicine or in graduate schools of chemistry.

Dr. Whealy earned his B.S. degree at Eastern Normal School in Mandan, S. D., masters degrees at the University of Colorado and the University of Oregon, and his Ph.D. at the University of Colorado.

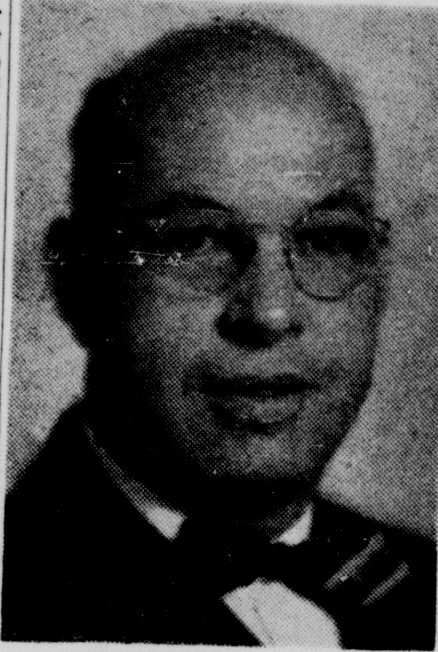

After teaching in high schools in Wyoming, South Dakota, where he was also a principal, and El Paso, Dr. Whealy taught physics at Carnegie Institute of Technology and was with the Special Engineers Detachment, Manhattan Project, at Los Alamos, N. M.

He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon, national honorary chemistry fraternity, and the American Chemical Society. He has served as secretary of the Panhandle-Plains section, and is chairman elect of the section, of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Whealy has made special studies on cobalt and cobalt compounds and solutions. An abstract on his doctoral thesis has been published in "Colorado Studies," and with Sam O. Colgate, former WT chemistry student, he has published two articles in the Journal of Chemical Education and Analytical Chemistry.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Battle of the Budget

The resolution that was adopted by the House of Representatives on March 12 returning the budget to the President of the United States, and which caused long, tedious and at times heated debate, was a very simple resolution.

It advised the President of the United States that it was the intention of Congress to cut his 72 billion dollar peacetime, record-high budget, and that the Congress would appreciate advice from the President as to where and how he felt these cuts could be made without seriously endangering his program.

Although this procedure was referred to as political maneuvering, skulduggery, and some worse names, it is my opinion it was a courtesy due the President of the United States. In the first place, it was he who said it would require 72 billion dollars to run this government for the next fiscal year.

This statement was based upon careful study by experts in every field in which the government operates and that, my friends, includes many fields. These experts are many in number and varied in accomplishments, and are in every department of the government.

Approximately 18 months ago they started to determine how much money they would request from the Congress to run their respective departments for fiscal 1958. Mind you, each of the departments is staffed with innumerable experts working for that department.

When they get all of their facts and figures together, these are submitted to the Bureau of the Budget (which is also in the Executive Branch of the government) and the fiscal advisor to the President of the United States.

These financial geniuses and statistical experts in that Bureau then go over the figure, and out of all this comes the budget recommendation of the President which reaches Congress sometime in January and which must be acted on before June 30. In other words, each of these departments, with all their experts, has about 18 months in which to prepare facts and figures to submit to the Congress.

The Congress is then expected to take all of these facts and figures from all of these different departments and act on all the budgets in one-third of the time required by each department to prepare one budget. The truth is it would be humanly impossible for Congress to weigh each of these budgets with the same care used by the experts who prepared them and, incidentally, those who expect to spend the money.

It is my opinion that a tremendous waste has developed through the years by this procedure.

A few years ago an attempt was made to set up a congressional committee that would be in continuous session to study the budget figures while they were being prepared by the departments. We failed in this attempt by very few votes, but I feel the time is ripe again to renew the fight.

This procedure could save the taxpayers of this nation billions of dollars and certainly could prevent a repeat performance of returning a budget to the President of the United States for reappraisal.

It is my opinion that the criticism directed at those of us who voted to refer this budget back to the President is unfounded, for the simple reason that the President should be entitled to say where and how he wants the budget cut so that he may protect his presidential program, whatever it might be.

Our action has already borne fruit, because the Administrator of the Housing Agency has announced a cut of 200 million dollars. I feel that others will awake to the fact that the people of this country are tired of paying taxes for increased government spending and regimentation.

Frankly, I am most happy to see people at the grass roots rising to the occasion as they have, because the very foundations of our government may rest in the balance. The budget must be cut.

To point out specifically one particular item that should be and can be substantially curtailed, if not completely abolished, let us look at foreign aid. This has cost the American taxpayers billions upon billions of dollars; yet, we are in a worse position today on the world front, insofar as buying friends and influencing people, than we were when it started.

The truth is this entire program has been a giant subsidy to big business, big industry and big labor, and that is one reason it has never been stopped. At long last one of the most ardent advocates in the Congress of the foreign aid program had admitted indirectly that such is the case.

In an address by Representative Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.), (a fine gentleman whom I like but with whom I disagree on several matters) to a U. S. Chamber of Commerce economy meeting here, he was quoted as saying: "Only a dribble of money (foreign aid) goes abroad. It's goods that are sent abroad. The dollars are spent here."

Please note that the dollars, referred to as being spent here, are your tax dollars. They are being paid to manufacturers in this country for goods to be given away abroad. If that isn't trying to lift yourself by your boot straps, I'll stand corrected.

The admission on the part of a staunch foreign aid advocate would seem to me to cause many red faces among those who so flagrantly criticize and condemn the American farmer and the small businessman as being the

Panhandle Talent Recognition

It was good to learn this week that Panhandle talent is not being overlooked nationally. The National Science Foundation has announced that predoctoral fellowships have been awarded to Neil Ashby of Dalhart and Sam Colgate of Amarillo. Honorably mentioned in the selection were Ronald Bracken and Mary Rietman of Amarillo; A. D. Britt of Estelline, and John E. Miller of Canyon. These awards are in a highly competitive field, and I am indeed proud of the showing of the 18th Congressional District of Texas.

SMART SCOTCHMAN

Two Scotchmen tossed to see who would pay for the dinner. The winner called "heads." The loser called, "Fire!" and escaped in the confusion.

No Weather Worries!

she's sitting PRETTY with an

Electric CLOTHES DRYER

... because she makes her own drying weather—day or night. Rain, snow, dust will not mar the beauty of HER clean wash. Just a simple transfer of the clothes from the washer to the dryer is all it takes for a CLEAN drying job. Her clothes last longer, too, because the harsh sun doesn't get a chance to fade away delicate colors. You, too, can make your own drying weather... with a clothes dryer—of course, it's electric.

Ask about FAMILY FARES

Recent disclosures from testimony: Former Insurance Commission Chairman Garland Smith was on several occasions the guest of Ben Jack Cagle, one-time ICT head, on pleasure trips. Smith's son-in-law, Max Wayne Rychlik, received $8,400 in salary from Cagle, for a job with no duties. ICT lost $2,000,000 in a series of stock transactions with Pierce Brooks, head of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas.

A Senate committeeman said that an independent investigator had been hired to look into the affairs of at least five other insurance companies.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed a bill by Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria to reorganize the Insurance Commission. It abolishes the present board and substitutes an executive director and a part-time, three-man policy board.

An amendment by Sen. Frank Owen of El Paso would require the Insurance Commission to move out of its headquarters. It occupies some eight floors of the International Life Insurance Co. building in Austin.

Owen contended that the state should not be paying rent to an insurance company over which it exercises control. Opponents counter that insurance companies of Texas pay the rent and the money does not come out of the state's general revenue fund.

They say further that if the commission returned to the old Land Office building, now inadequate for the enlarged commission, the state would be providing free space and forcing other departments to move—and pay rent. They also point out that there is no other building in Austin large enough to house the Insurance Commission.

Gov. Price Daniel is supporting a bill in the House, by Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio, which would provide a full-time insurance board. The Senate version is not the Governor's bill.

New Commission Pushed
Governor Daniel has put the "emergency" label on his request for a State Law Enforcement Commission.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria submitted the Governor's proposal in a bill co-signed by 102 House members.

Commission's duty would be to "put the spotlight of truth" on charges of official misconduct.

Twelve members would include a chairman appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, plus 11 other members named by grand jury foremen in the state's judicial districts.

Daniel Backs TPA Bills

Simultaneously with his announcement of a Crime Commission Bill, Governor Daniel gave unqualified endorsement of 15 "Better Government" legislative measures recommended by the Texas Press Association.

Daniel extended his personal compliments to TPA and the press of Texas for "unselfish effort in the fight to bring better government to the State and its citizens."

In his endorsement the Governor said "the 15 bills sponsored by the press of Texas would supply some badly needed laws, and strengthen several existing laws. They have my unqualified endorsement."

New Water Board

Another phase of the water conservation program has reached conference committee stage. Bills to create the Texas Water Development Board passed both houses.

Senate version calls for a five-member board; House, three members. Board's responsibility would be to administer the proposed $200,000,000 bond issue. Money is to be loaned to local districts for conservation projects.

Truckers Seek Increase
A bill to increase truck-load limits has stirred the perennial controversy between the motor freight and railroad industries.

Truckers are pushing a bill to increase the limit, now 58,420 to 72,000 pounds. Backers contend that putting the increased weight on an extra axle would mean no more wear and tear on roads than present loads. Truckers, they add, paid $97,000,000 or 41 per cent of the state highway use taxes in 1956.

A State Highway Department bridge designer said that a 72,000-pound load would shorten the lives of Texas bridges. A railroad spokesman warned that truckers "can't pay enough for the damage done to Texas highways."

Loan Laws Urged

Measures to regulate small loan businesses are being studied in the House. At committee hearings Former Sec'y of State Tom Reavley, the Texas Junior Bar, and a military official made strong appeals for loan regulation. They cited cases of interest and charges allegedly running to nearly 300 per cent.

A bill by Rep. Tom Koriath of Sherman would license persons making loans up to $500, allow 10 per cent interest and other charges up to 3 per cent a month on unpaid balance if less than $100.

Mental Health Department
Session's trend toward reorganizing state agencies has extended to mental hospitals.

A last-minute Senate bill incorporates the recommendations of a national authority who surveyed the Texas hospital system. Dr. Francis J. Gerdy of Chicago proposed "disentangling" mental hospitals from "unrelated services" (tuberculosis hospitals and special schools). He also suggested a model demonstration program at a new 500-bed hospital in the Houston-Galveston area.

New bill would create a Department of Mental Health under the present State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools. Texas Medical Association has endorsed the plan.

Students To Get Free Salk Shots

Salk polio vaccine will be given free to all regularly enrolled students at West Texas State College, if they wish them, President James P. Cornette has announced.

The shots will be given at an early date, as soon as vaccine is received, Dr. Cornette said. All students who wish the shots have been requested to sign lists placed at several points on the campus.

Students under 21 must have written permission from their parents. Faculty and employees of the college may also obtain the shots for themselves and their families at a cost of $1 for each of the first two shots of the series.

The vaccine will be given at the campus health center, and date for the first shot will be announced.

Second shot of the series will be given about three weeks following the first. Third and final shot is to be taken about seven months following the second.

Billie Graham Voted Sorority President

Billie Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham of near Happy, was recently elected president of the active chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at Texas Christian University. She will hold this office until March, 1958.

Refrigerator Rolls Are Demonstrated

Methods for making refrigerator rolls were demonstrated March 19 for the Umbarger 4-H Club by Mrs. Mona Hildreth. After the demonstration, the Home Demonstration agent showed slides on different treatments of dough and how to vary shapes of rolls. The girls sampled some of the rolls made by Mrs. Hildreth.

of the Texas Prison System.

Farmers could use their pick-up trucks with half-price license tags for routine household errands as well as farm work under a bill passed by the House. Rep. A. J. Bishop Jr. of Winters is author.

Governor Daniel has set April 20 as the date of a special election to choose a successor to Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe.

A bill to prevent unauthorized use of a political party's name has been introduced by Rep. Moyne Kelly of Afton. It is aimed at "Democrats of Texas"—a group frowned on by the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Governor Daniel has signed into law a bill providing prison sentences for persons selling liquor or narcotics to prison inmates. He also signed a bill designed to prevent adulteration or mislabeling of commercial foods.

Senate confirmation of 53 recess appointments of Former Gov. Allan Shivers took care of all the Shivers slate except three. These are R. M. Dison, Water Board chairman; R. F. Newman, Employment Commission; J. M. Patterson, chairman of the Board of Control.

List 11 Reasons For Adjustments

This is the 10th of a series of 12 articles prepared by the Internal Revenue Service to assist taxpayers in avoiding errors that cause tax audits. Today we are presenting 11 common reasons for the Internal Revenue Service having to adjust miscellaneous items claimed by taxpayers:

(1) The dividend exclusion for a single person or a married person filing a separate return is $50. For husband and wife filing a joint return it is $50 each.

(2) Life insurance companies and certain other types of corporations do not qualify for the dividend exclusion nor the dividend credit.

(3) The loss incurred on the sale of a personal residence is not deductible, for income tax purposes.

(4) Real estate agents' commissions, forfeited escrow payments, title fees, documentary stamps, attorney fees, cost of surveys, and similar payments in connection with the sale or purchase of a personal residence are not deductible as itemized deductions and they do not constitute a loss that is deductible for income tax purposes.

(5) Stocks and securities on which there is a reasonable likelihood of some recovery, even though small, are not entirely worthless therefore the loss incurred as the result of their decrease in value is not deductible.

(6) The profit on items in which the taxpayer is a dealer and which he holds for sale to customers in the course of his trade or business are not subject to the capital gains treatment.

(7) The maintenance and operating expenses attributable to a house or a portion thereof which is occupied by a taxpayer as a residence or is occupied by his dependents are not deductible for income tax purposes.

(8) Only the expenses actually paid during the calendar year are deductible by a cash basis taxpayer.

(9) The value of a taxpayer's personal labor is not deductible as an expense and it may not be included in the cost of the property.

(10) Amounts which represent capital improvements are not deductible as operating expenses for Federal income tax purposes.

(11) Percentage depletion is limited to the smaller of:

a. 27½% of the gross income from the property, or
b. 50% of the net profit from the property.

Study your tax instructions carefully before preparing your return and you will avoid having questionable items in your tax returns.

In the next article we will discuss other miscellaneous items that the Internal Revenue Service is required to adjust.

Looking Ahead to Weekends

If you're like most people, you look ahead to weekends.

That's when family and friends get together to relax and have fun.

Unfortunately, sometimes all the family can't be on hand, or perhaps you haven't heard from some old friends for too long a time.

There's no point in letting this dampen your weekend fun. Just reach for the telephone and call them Long Distance. They'll be glad you called . . . and so will you.

Rates are lower all day Sunday, and after 6 p. m. weekdays.

And remember to call by number—it's twice as fast.

Convenience Is Here to Stay

All around the house, every day, we see convenience and more convenience.

Dad has his easy chair conveniently located next to his favorite reading table. Mother has a novel or her sewing basket near her. And the youngsters like to have a radio or record player in their room.

Maybe this is the time to take another look at your telephone service to make it more convenient for you and your family.

Why not have telephones where you want them, when you need them? We'll install additional phones wherever they serve your family best—in kitchen, bedroom, or any room in the house.

The cost is low, only 75 cents a month and small one-time installation charge. Just call the telephone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

A friend whose lovely home burned last week says none of us realize how much we own — or how hard it will be to replace.

Her own home was filled with early American furniture, china, pewter and knickknacks, collected over almost a lifetime. She had lived in a tiny cottage until her children were grown, waiting until she and her husband could afford the house she had always dreamed of.

Each time she made a trip or visited an antique shop, she picked up another little table, fireside bench, chest of drawers, bone china platter or brass candlestick, and stored it for the future. They had lived in the beautiful new house for about 10 years, happily sharing it with friends and enjoying it to the utmost.

Now they not only face an expensive refurbishing of the house. They must substitute for the rare old pieces that had been a very practical and engrossing hobby, and can never actually be replaced.

Her advice to her friends is: take inventory. Household insurance taken out several years back and simply renewed each year doesn't cover the pieces one adds from time to time without realizing it: the piano and television set; the clothes, hats and shoes; china and silverware that one accumulates gradually. The sentiment can't be insured, but the practical value can.

"Things" are never as important as good health, good friends, good standing in the church and community. Still they come to have a meaning when we live with them, that is very close to affection.

THAD SAYS . . .

"In 1952 and again in 1956, we Texans endorsed President Eisenhower and his policies by landslide majorities.

His leadership, I believe, has been good for Texas and the entire country.

"The President's task has not been made easier by a Congress controlled by the opposition party. Legislation he has asked for has often been delayed or thrown out altogether. An unfriendly committee recently cut 26 million dollars from the drought relief appropriation he asked for.

My election would provide the President the friendly Senate he should have to hasten and complete his programs. Thad Hutcheson is the only candidate for the Senate who has been endorsed by the President. I urge you to send me to Washington to work with Mr. Eisenhower."

Formal Ceremony

MRS. RAYMOND G. HINDERS

Sarah Barnhart, Raymond Hinders Exchange Wedding Vows Recently

The Methodist Church of Kress was the scene March 17 for the marriage of Sarah Beth Barnhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barnhart, to Raymond Gerhard Hinders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Hinders of Happy. The Rev. Robert O. Cooper, director of the Methodist Student Center of West Texas State College, read the double-ring ceremony at 3 p. m.

before an improvised arch of greenery banked by baskets of white gladioli, stock and mums. Candelabra bearing cathedral tapers completed the background.

The pianist, Mrs. W. R. Humphreys of Tulia, played "Traumerei" by Schuman, "Liebestraum" by Liszt, "Love's Old Sweet Song" by Molloy, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" by Moore, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and "Indian Love Call" by Trimm as nuptial prelude. She accompanied Joann Stanaland of Tulia who sang "Because," "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer." Traditional wedding marches were used.

Candles were lighted by Johnny Barnhart, brother of the bride, and Eddie and Mike Hinders of Canyon, nephews of the bridegroom, were ring bearers.

A niece of the bridegroom, Sharon Hinders of Canyon, was flower girl. Her dress was of white embroidered organdy over blue taffeta. She wore a tiny circlet of flowers on her head.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Sifert of Fort Collins, Colo., was matron of honor. Mrs. James R. Tunnell of Dallas and Mrs. Herman O. Turner of Lubbock, cousins of the bride, were the other attendants to the bride.

Canyon, were ushers.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an original styled gown of French imported Chantilly Galian over layers of tulle, net and taffeta. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, a sweetheart neckline of natural scallops and short sleeves. She wore elbow-length mitts.

Her finger-tip veil was attached to a small pill box hat that was covered with seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was of tiny lily-of-the-valleys and an orchid.

Mrs. Barnhart, mother of the bride, wore a blue suit with white accessories. Mrs. Hinders, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy dress with matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception honored the bridal party in the home of the bride's parents. Janelle Mundy of Plainview secured names for the guest book and Mrs. Harold Hinderson of Canyon played piano selections.

Wedding cake was served by La Britta Logsdon of Kress and Alma Nell Miller of Kilgore presided at the punch bowl. Others in the house party were Mrs. E. E. Smith, Amarillo, Mrs. Nelle Mundy, Plainview, Mrs. Woodie Boston, Mrs. D. C. Beaty and Mrs. E. H. Denny of Kress.

Registered out of town guests were from Fort Collins, Colo., Springer, N. M., Pampa, Earth, Amarillo, Canyon, Happy, Tulia and Plainview.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Hinders wore a beige linen suit with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 442 W. Laurel, Fort Collins, Colo.

Mrs. Hinders was graduated from Kress High School and for the past two years has been a student at West Texas State College. She will continue her studies at Colorado A&M this spring quarter.

The bridegroom graduated from Canyon High School and received his B.S. degree from West Texas State College last June. He is doing graduate work at Colorado A&M.

The bride entertained with the rehearsal dinner at her home on the evening of March 16. Those attending besides the wedding party were the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Kress, Thomas E. Sifert and Ann of Fort Collins, Colo., the Rev. and Mrs. Bob Cooper and son, Mrs. H. F. Barnhart of Pampa, Mrs. J. H. Barrett of Happy, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barnhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hinders.

The three were identical dresses of white embroidered organdy, fashioned with a full skirt, tiny puffed sleeves and a boat neckline over blue taffeta. Each wore matching headbands and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations with blue ribbons.

Best man was Edward Hinders of Happy, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Warren Walls, Fort Collins, Colo., and Gene Peggram of Quail. Harold Hinderson and Bud Schofield, both of

Blizzard Strangles County -

however, was derailed by a frozen switch. It was pulled back on the tracks Monday afternoon.

A Santa Fe rescue train came from the south picking up those stranded, and left them in Canyon. They were brought to the Randall County jail in the National Guard truck. Late Sunday night, another Santa Fe train came into Canyon from the west and left more stranded motorists and the passengers from the stalled bus.

Sheriff Johnston said at one time there were 22 persons staying in the jail building.

He said that many people in Canyon deserved mention for the work they did during the storm. Cafes stayed open late Sunday night to feed those brought in on the trains. Groceries brought food for those who were staying in the jail.

Damage to streets in Canyon was much lighter than might have been expected because of the speed with which it melted. City Secretary Andrew Boggs said. He estimated that damage would run about half of the big snow last year when $15,000 damage was done.

He said the snow would delay considerably the paving program, however. The street crews have been preparing base for paving all winter long, but the snow and moisture cause much of it to be redone.

Monday morning, when the work of clearing the highways began, help came to the highway crews from the two companies which are constructing highways near Canyon.

Equipment operators of the Henry L. Stafford Company, the company building the Happy highway, went to the machinery as soon as the road was cleared that far and pitched in to help clear the rest of the highway.

Other operators of the company and those working for Ivan Dement, the contractor of the expressway, operated Dement equipment in the work of clearing the snow from the highways and pulling stalled vehicles out of the way.

The use of the equipment was freely donated by the companies and aided materially in the work of shoving snow off the highways.

The blizzard and snow was of little benefit to the area. County Agent John Brazzil said that any moisture from the snow would be light on open fields. "I suspect that most of our people would rather not have had the snow," he said.

He said he did not believe there was any crop damage because of the high temperatures. During the storm, the temperature did not drop more than six or seven degrees below freezing, and the ground did not reach the freezing mark.

In the city, the wind did considerable damage, blowing down television antennas and breaking limbs from snow-laden trees.

The wind and snow broke electric power lines all during the storm, and Southwestern Public Service crews worked almost continually to repair the damage.

SWPS manager Truett Hull said the line to Umbarger went out Saturday night and was out for about 36 hours before it was repaired. He said a crew tried to reach the break Sunday but was stopped by heavy drifts. Monday morning a crew reached the break by walking and repaired it. Service was resumed around 8 a. m.

The line running down the First-Second Avenue alley from 15th to 22nd was burned out Saturday and was off about six hours. It was repaired, but went out again Sunday morning.

The line down the Fourth-Fifth Avenue alley from 18th Street to the highway was out about four hours Sunday. Several transformer fuses were burned out at various times, Hull said.

Ten customers on a rural line east of town were without electric power during much of the storm. Hull said the number of line breaks and burnouts could have been repaired under more normal conditions in about six hours, but the snow and wind required about four times longer. The crews worked until 2 a. m. Saturday, from 6 a. m. to 11 p. m. Sunday and were out again early Monday morning.

Along with the heavy drifts outside, the wind-driven snow blew into attics and piled up inside to melt and run through ceilings.

The full extent of the damage caused by the blizzard will probably not be known until more of the huge drifts have melted to show what is buried underneath.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fewell of Ropesville visited Mrs. Mary Burtz from Saturday until Monday. They were stopped by the blizzard on a return trip home from Amarillo. Mrs. Burtz is their grandmother.

Piled Up Snow

Drifts waist deep and higher were common around Canyon after the snowstorm, and townspeople shoveled out a narrow passage along the sidewalk, just as Bill Sternberg did here.

Traffic Stopping Snowbank

This snowbank, about three miles west of Canyon on Highway 60, was the first in a series of drifts that blocked the highway. It was about five feet deep, the next was eight feet deep.

Street Cleaning

By noon Monday, the city's maintainer had done a fine job of clearing many of the drifts on Fourth Avenue and finished off most of the rest of the city streets by Tuesday night.

Variety Ring Sews Thursday

The Variety Ring met in the home of Mrs. P. L. Pitt for an evening of sewing Thursday.

Mrs. J. P. Hammons and Mrs. Earl Burtz were in charge of the program.

The guessing box was passed

Members answering something about spring "that we enjoy" were Mrs. Videll Hogge, Mrs. Mae Johnson, Mrs. Levi Cole, Mrs. George Cox, Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. W. L. Rice, Mrs. Hammons, Mrs. Burtz and the hostess.

Life of a Bookworm

Open to a bookworm is a taste of a life of adventure, intrigue, romance, danger—anything that is appealing to him.

To do all the great things one dreams of is next to impossible, but an exceedingly simple solution to this problem, which is amply satisfying, lies in reading books. A storehouse of scintillating treasures lies in wait for one who will but open a book.

Books encourage one to know oneself and to know others. Human behavior and emotions are portrayed which give us insight on the reasons we act as we do. Just as history repeats itself, so is human behavior the same as years ago. How to conduct the affairs of a nation can be derived from past history. To a certain extent how to gauge our lives can be gleaned from the good and the bad literary characters.

There are many factual books which may help in choosing a job, writing a theme, painting a picture. I could go on for some time listing the many types of aid books can give one.

To get the full benefit from life, one is told to be broad minded, do a lot of things, have a burning desire to live deeply. The same is true of books. Read a variety of types of books—do not get into a rut reading just novels, for example.

Anything worth doing at all is worth doing well, so let's read the most we can of the best available. Desire to learn; desire to delve into unfamiliar subject matter; treasure and appreciate the books in our schools and libraries in America and we will ever be educated young people who are alert to the needs of ourselves and of others.

COURTESY PAYS!

it doesn't pay to

Driving too fast for conditions—(weather, traffic, visibility, location) cost 12,000 lives last year!

Throttle Speed

Ushered into the place of the horse and buggy days is the present jet or atomic age, and the greatest identifying characteristics of the present are speed, hurrying, worrying—and I might add headaches. One of the headaches of this rushed century is the traffic deaths on our highways.

Perhaps many of us have often groaned and said, "Aw, what's the use of all this emphasis on safe driving and driver-education courses?"

That trend of thought is becoming outdated now, for more and more people are pushing and pulling for safety on our highways and for the teaching of driver-education in our schools.

If we truly want to stop the slaughter on the traffic-ways, we must come up with some sound ideas pretty quick. Teaching the young people, who will make up the future America—how to drive carefully, the laws and regulations of the highways, the correct driving attitudes—is one good way to approach the problem. It has been proven that drivers who have had driver education courses are twice as safe drivers as those not having the course.

In Texas, 429 schools offer instruction in driving, and one half of the schools in the United States do so too.

Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico join at one point.

Staffs Prance Back With Prizes

Winning two first places, two second places, and one third place, Canyon high students attended the annual meeting of the Panhandle High School Press Association at West Texas State College on March 19.

John Menke, news editor of the Eagle's Tale, was elected treasurer for the coming year. The Eagle's Tale took first place honors in the community page newspaper division (school papers printed in the town paper), and Annette Dugan copped first place in the sports story writing division. Both first place winners receive trophies and certificates. The trophies are 12 inches high. Atop a wooden base is a golden figure holding a torch.

Soaring Wings, the school yearbook, took second place in Class B annual division. Last year's edition, the 1955-56 annual, was entered in competition with schools that spent a similar amount of money for the memory books.

Dusty Hiltbrunner won second place for her feature story in the newspaper division on Helen Guthrie being in the hospital at Houston.

John Menke won third place in sports story contest. As treasurer for the coming year, he succeeds Annette Dugan.

Highlight of the meeting was a luncheon address by C. J. Humphrey, Amarillo attorney, and the announcement of awards.

Roy Clark, Hereford Brand photographer, addressed the group on planning pictures for both annuals and newspapers. Workshops directed by Mrs. Julia Van Beber, sponsor of Dumas Journalism, and Robert Wylie, Palo Duro newspaper sponsor, Miss Claudia Everly, White Deer instructor, Miss Elizabeth Hurley, Pampa yearbook sponsor, divided the group according to interest.

Mr. Wylie and Mrs. Van Beber conducted sessions on headline and feature writing. Miss Everly conducted a session on the "Art of Mimeography." Miss Hurley gave yearbook students tips.

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WT, welcomed the 335 students after a registration period, when Cokes and doughnuts were served.

Who's Eyeing You?

The eyes of the night are upon you.

Yes, the night has eyes—deceitful eyes that watch drivers and pounce upon the unwary. A flashing neon sign, glaring headlights, glistening reflections—these are the night's eyes that betray the driver.

While only one-third of the miles are driven at night, two-thirds of the traffic deaths occur after dark. It's a proven fact that driving at night is four times deadlier than driving during daytime. But the smart driver realizes this and uses a few precautions to make night driving safer.

First, a wise driver who knows the facts of driving knows that a common failing of night drivers is overdriving their headlights. When traveling 50 miles an hour, a car couldn't stop in time if a stalled car appeared in the lights 200 feet ahead. Why? Well, the stopping distance of the car is greater than the distance that the driver can see. A smart driver will fool the eyes of the night by slowing down so that the stopping distance falls within the viewing distance.

Another fault that occurs in night driving is high beam driving. The state law says that a driver must dim his lights at least 500 feet from an oncoming car. Some fail to do this. Ignore that urge to fix that non-conformist. A car traveling 60 miles an hour would travel 630 feet in the seven seconds that it takes a normal driver to recover vision after being blinded.

That is the same as 35 cars parked end to end. Maybe the other fellow won't dim his lights, but don't lower yourself to his game. Two wrongs don't make a right. In this case they often make a wreck—a deadly wreck.

Aye, the eyes of the night are upon you and every other driver, watching, waiting for a chance to deceive you into a driving blunder. Fool them and be a safe night driver.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

"Waiter, these are very small oysters."

"Yes, sir."

"And they don't appear to be very fresh."

"Then it's lucky they're small, ain't it, sir?"

WRONG GIRL

Gob — I'd like to kiss you until you hollered Stop!

Girl — I guess you picked the wrong girl this time.

You mean you wouldn't let me kiss you?

No. I wouldn't holler STOP.

Loyalty, Scholarship, Citizenship Basis of Who's Who Selection

Selected as Juniors Who's Who for 1957 are Janet Taylor, Barbara Brown, Mary Gladys Marshall, Beverly Henson, Dana Wilbanks and John Robert Wheelock. The selections were based on citizenship, scholarship, loyalty to school, cooperation and achievement.

Janet is a member of the Science Club, Student-Faculty Congress, National Honor Society, the Rainbow Girls, vice president of the junior class and Spanish Club Queen. Her favorite subjects are Spanish and English, and she enjoys reading books and playing the piano.

Barbara's favorite subjects are mathematics and typing. She likes to play the piano and participate in all kinds of sports. She plays basketball, volleyball, tennis, and is a member of the FTA, Science Club, NHS, and class reporter.

Mary Gladys has no favorite subjects but enjoys art and playing the piano. She is a member of the NHS, accompanist for choir, president of FHA, and applying for State Degree in homemaking and is regional secretary for the church youth fellowship. She plans to major in home economics in college.

Choir and plane geometry are Beverly's favorite subjects. She has been in choir three years, All-State choir two years, a member of the Chapel Belles of the First Baptist Church, in the NHS and FHA. She enjoys listening to the radio and traveling.

Participating, spectating and reading about sports is the favorite pastime of Dana. He likes to play football and basketball; is the president of the junior class, member of S-F, NHS, Science Club and band. He plans to become a minister and has no favorite subject.

Upon completion of high school, John Robert plans to major in mathematics and some branch of science in college. He is president of the Science Club, has been on the track team, basketball team and was placed on the second all-district football team. Among his hobbies are astronomy, singing, reading science fiction, playing the piano and chess, in which he tied for first place in Panhandle junior division last year.

Industrial Arts Cultivates Qualities Fundamental to American Living

Industrial arts, through a study element in our culture, contributes to the general education of the students. The goal of each student is a general education so fundamental to the American way of life.

Industrial arts contribute attitudes, habits, appreciations, ideals, skill, and understandings which aid in furthering the general education.

This is done by upholding nine objectives, interest in industry, appreciation and use, self-realization and initiative, cooperative attitudes, health and safety, interest in achievement, orderly performance, drawing and design and shop skills and knowledge.

Interest in industry develops a knowledge of production and exchange in the student. Appreciation and use covers the field of good design—an appreciation for good design and workmanship and the ability to base the design upon materials available. The care of materials is also taught in this objective.

Three objectives are closely related to developing the student. The orderly performance of an industrial art task develops the ability of the student other tasks to carry to a completion. Initiative and cooperative attitudes are developed to teach resourcefulness and getting along with others.

A fourth objective ties into these three. This is the interest in achievement—not only the individual's achievement, but the achievement of others.

CHS Speakers Take First Place

Several CHS students took first place at an invitational speech meet in Plainview March 15. They were John Robert Wheelock, senior boys declamation; Margaret Johnson, junior girls declamation; and Leo Rigby, boys extemporaneous speaking.

Others participating in this contest were Jimmie Hiltbrunner and Joy Gray, senior girls declamation; Richard Purcell and John Wear, junior boys declamation; Nikki Cabe, junior girls declamation; Carol Ann Minor, girls extemporaneous speaking; Barbara Myers, Bill Cornette and Bob Fielden, poetry reading.

John Robert Wheelock was chosen for the All-Star cast of the one-act play, after CHS presented "The Flight of the Herons," which received a fourth, at the Interscholastic League contest in Tulia on March 14.

Other members of the cast were Marcus Robinson, LaVerne Riley, Jerry Parker, Gerald Free, Barbara Myers and Barbara Lindsay.

Mrs. Cecil Simms is sponsor of both groups.

Chiquita Janet Reina Espanola

A queen must be queenly in appearance, personality, actions and must know her business. All of these qualifications describe the Spanish Queen, Janet Taylor.

Janet is active in the Spanish Club and acts as treasurer for the club. She knows and speaks Spanish well.

Playing the piano is one of Janet's hobbies. She would like to teach piano later on.

She is a member of many other organizations, such as the Science Club, Student Council, National Honor Society and Rainbow Girls. She is vice president of the junior class and was chosen to Junior Who's Who this year.

Only two objectives relate solely to shop. These are shop skills and the ability to draw and design. A student must be able to draw and design a project and then have sufficient skill in the use of common tools and machines to complete the project.

The last objective is one that benefits the whole society and not the individual or course. This is one of health and safety. When one is conscious of safety and health in one place, these attitudes naturally carry over into other phases of life.

Using these nine objectives, the industrial students at Canyon High have been completing projects for themselves and for the school. The students have made cedar chests, headboards and other furniture. These projects are made by the boys from various types of wood and in various styles.

Mr. Sidney Burgess, industrial arts instructor, and his classes contribute many things to the school which go unnoticed. Each year the shop students help in the Christmas program by preparing the stage and stands for scenery. Almost every department in school has at least one piece of furniture that the industrial arts department made as a favor.

Oversize Heifer Gulps FFA Lad

It was a bright shiny day. A boy strolled lazily down the street. Suddenly he looked up. He came to an abrupt halt. His eyes widened. His mouth dropped open in utter amazement. He became stiff as a board and shuddered all over. It could not be. He could not believe his eyes. There, directly in his path, was a cow, perhaps 25 times the normal size.

Suddenly the cow opened his mouth and seized him. The next thing he knew he was on the inside of the cow.

His eyes squinted and his ears listened intently. His nostrils sniffed and became alert. He bit his lip. He swallowed hard. He never moved so much as a muscle.

Suddenly there was a loud thump. Then another. Then continuously. He saw out of the corner of his eyes milk and chewed food flowing through tubes and all sorts of bright colored structures. Then there was a loud mysterious wind. Then another, only in the opposite direction, which roared from the throat above.

Crash! Bang! Thump! He was falling and falling through space. He was doomed. Thump! A roar of laughter. Suddenly he found himself on the floor of the bus, on the way back from a visit to the Purina Feed Mill to see the "Champ."

"Champ" is a replica of a beef cow which enables people to study the structures and workings on the inside of a cow. "Champ" measures nine by 12 feet on the inside.

HE IS

A farmer once called his cow Zephyr.

She seemed such an amiable hephy.

When the farmer drew near,

She kicked off his ear,

And now the old farmer's much dephy.

WHICH?

Customer — Remember that can of sardines you sold me yesterday?

Grocer — Yes, madam.

Customer — Did you say they were "imported" or "deported" from Norway?

When a rifle is aimed, the barrel is above the line of the target.

Players' Awards Highlight Evening

The Fighting Heart Award and the Outstanding Player award were presented at the annual Athletic Banquet on March 15. Harlie Adams received the Fighting Heart Award and Charles Neblett the Outstanding Player Award.

Over 165 participants in athletics at CHS were on hand to witness the presentation of awards and to enjoy the dinner and program. Representatives from both the boys and girls teams in football and basketball were present.

The coronation ceremony was handled by the team captains. Lynn Atkinson was crowned Football Queen, and Ronald Crow and Carolyn Glanton were crowned Basketball King and Queen.

Frank Kimbrough, head coach at WT, showed a film of the 11th annual Tangerine Bowl game, in which the college team competed, and gave the main address of the evening.

Special recognition was given to graduating senior athletes. They assembled at the front of the group and closed the program by leading the school song.

Others closely associated with athletics were present for the festivity. Cheerleaders attending were Cecelia Waters, Mary Sue Bolton, Janet Wheeler, Rachel Smith, Nedra Fanning and Bernice Green.

Mr. George Cristy, CHS faculty member, is their sponsor. Mac Boswell and Joe Bailey, managers, were recognized. Miss Mary Carter, girls' athletic sponsor, was recognized for aid in the program.

Limelight of Play: Life of a Teacher

Want to see a play rehearsed within a play? If so, come to see the senior play, "Are Teachers Human?" on March 28, 29 at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. Admission is 75 and 50 cents.

This play is unusual in that it emphasizes teachers, instead of teen-agers, and the problems involved in being an instructor.

Arbutis Meadows, the new English teacher, is played by Marcus Robinson, and Charles Conatser plays Edward Fowler, the new principal. C. Solomon Stone, Gerald Free, and his daughter, Francis Boyd, cause many complications in the plot.

Puddenhead Pye, Elston Burkham, is a dumb football player, and Mike Lang, Charles Neblett, is his coach who learns about poetry from Arbutis.

Hortense Anderson, Virginia Walker, wrote "Savage Moonbeams," and Betty Gregg is the secretary who listens to the troubles of all the students. Seniors who are in the free-verse play or tried out for a part are Kewpie Russell, Sandra Michael; Liza Felton, Cecelia Waters; Suzanne Hart, Jackie Barnard; Jeff Sanders, Buddy Lowrey; and Shorty, Ray Mills.

Let's Check Our Driving Quotient

By Suzanne Simms

"Today's teen-age drivers are going to be the adult drivers of tomorrow." This is a quotation to be remembered by all teen-age drivers while they are driving.

Every year traffic accidents increase at a rapid rate. For example, during 1951 the number of deaths, having to do with traffic accidents, was 37,100, and in 1952 was 37,600. This was an increase of 500 deaths. With more cars on the road in the past few years the accident death total has been steadily increasing.

Statistics show that more people are killed and injured because of exceeding the speed limit than for any other violation of the laws.

About 85 per cent of the vacation trips in the United States are made by automobile. This means there are more traffic accidents during the holidays and summer months than at any other time of the year.

The latest figures show that drivers from the ages of 14 to 18 are much better drivers than those 18 to 24. Figures also show that since drivers education courses have been included in high school curriculum the teen-age accident total has been decreasing in the past few years at a rapid rate.

We should all continue to practice safe driving and remember that it's not the right of way that counts but the right way.

ONE QUALIFICATION

Paul — They're looking for a balloon dancer for the new Broadway show.

Amos — Then maybe you can hire my wife.

Paul — Oh, is she a dancer?

Amos — No, but she's shaped like a balloon.

Pruett, Boydston Elected Leaders Of Student Body for 1957-58

Newly chosen president and vice president of the Student-Faculty Congress are Author Lee Pruett and Eddie Boydston, respectively. They were elected on March 21 and 22. Eddie received a majority of votes in the first election, but a runoff between A. L. Pruett and Roy Hunter was held on Friday.

Arthur Lee, active all during his high school days, has held many offices which have developed qualities of leadership necessary for the president of the student body to have. He was the freshman class president, junior class favor-

A. L. has been interested in sports during his time in CHS. He lettered three years in "A" football; lettered two years in "A" basketball; honorable mention on the all-district football team and honorable mention on the all-regional football team and Player of the Week have been other honors he has chalked up in the sports world.

Eddie Boydston likewise has held responsible positions during the past 10 years which qualify him for the job he is undertaking. During grade school he was class president several times and in the eighth grade runner-up for president of Student Council.

In his freshman year, Eddie was class president, and played "A" football; was on the basketball and track teams. His sophomore year has also been an active one. Sophomores elected him as class favorite.

In FFA, he is parliamentarian, sergeant-at-arms and song leader. He was elected to the second team in all-district football and was chosen honorable mention on the all-regional team. Also he has participated in "B" basketball and track.

All the candidates for these offices presented campaigns in an assembly on March 20. They were nominated by the Student Council and by students in an assembly on March 7.

Candidates for vice president were Eddie Boydston, Dwayne Ledbetter and Larry Brotherton, all sophomores.

Eddie Boydston was running on the Felt Hat ticket according to his campaign, Elston Burkham and John Robert Wheelock. Roy Harris campaigned for Dwayne Ledbetter, and Jimmy Brasher spoke for Larry Brotherton.

Running for president were Dana Wilbanks, Roy Hunter, Author Lee Pruett and Jim Fanning, juniors.

Charles Neblett gave the qualifications of Dana Wilbanks, and Donnie Ford spoke on behalf of Roy Hunter. Marcus Robinson campaigned for A. L. Pruett, and Ed Leake spoke for Jim Fanning.

Each candidate spoke after his campaign managers. Some presented sincere statements of their plans for the future if elected. No silly campaign promises were given as in previous years.

Cherry Blossoms

By DOVIE CHERRY

Well, winter finally got here! It decided to steal the whole show and pushed spring backstage. Spring hadn't quite finished putting on her airy costume and gay makeup, but was surely thinking about it. Guess she will have to be an understudy for awhile.

There's one thing about a big snow like we had this last weekend. It really makes a body appreciate a nice, warm house, a good book, and something to eat.

If a person absolutely didn't have to be out in the weather, home was certainly the best place to be. In fact, that was a nice thing about the blizzard. You couldn't go to the places you had to go to and so, could just take life easy. That is, if you could keep from pacing the floor, looking out the window and listening every minute to the radio.

The snow made the biggest, hardest packed snowballs I've felt hit me in the middle of the back in a long time. Yes sir, nice and hard.

It was also mighty fine for snow

The snow put a halt to a lot of things, mainly traffic, but it didn't stop the Personality Pageant at the college. I hear it was a spectacular affair with quite striking decorations.

The student senate did the decorations and chose a French decor. As I hear it they really made a different place out of the college cafeteria by using a wall to wall mural over the part that is under construction, an improvised, spraying fountain, a street of Paris scene, tables centered with bottles covered with candle wax and small flower carts. They even had waiters decked out in white shirts with arm garters.

There is a very delightful article in Good Housekeeping by H. Allen Smith. It's entitled "Pigs and Leshleys," and if you read it, it "shod" make you "laf," especially if you enjoy reading the creative writings of children.

Speaking of creative writing or spelling, a report that came to the Canyon News had a word in it that I guess was creative or at least it was different. The word was 2nd. What do you think that spells?

One of Canyon's fine ladies called the office the other day and severely reprimanded us for not running an article that she had sent us.

"This is twice that this has happened," she cried in indignant wrath. So, we set out looking to see if the article has been misplaced. We looked, and looked and looked.

And while we were looking, the lady called back and meekly told us that she had just then found the story in the paper.

We have to chomp on our words a lot of times, newspapers being what newspapers are—run by humans and quite fallible. But, when we get to see somebody else swallow their words, we must confess that we enjoy the unholy mirth.

If you don't believe that television and radio influence the younger set, then listen to this story.

While Mrs. John Matthews was keeping Richard Harding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Harding, at her home recently, she took the boy outside while the Matthews planted a willow tree.

When Richard saw what they were doing he got all excited and said, "Oh, boy, ya'll are planting a money tree!"

Tired of the same old mashed potatoes? If you are, you might try these two different ways to give the potatoes a different flavor.

One way is, after mashing potatoes as usual, add chopped, fresh green onion, a little bit of bacon drippings, and chopped bacon. Combine and then sprinkle cheese on top and put in the oven to melt cheese.

Another way to prepare mashed potatoes is to mash potatoes as usual only with onion salt instead of plain, iodized salt. Put potatoes in a fire-proof casserole and add a topping made with one-half cup cream, whipped stiff, into which is added one-half cup grated Parmesan cheese, American or Swiss cheese and a dash of Tabasco sauce. After adding the topping, put under boiler for a few minutes until the whipped cream and cheese bubbles. Serve immediately.

The plate-size peanut patties sold at the Little League benefit were mighty good. Only thing wrong was I tried to eat half of ours in one evening.

Do you consider yourself chauvinistic? If not, give an honest answer to this question? Did it ever occur to you that some people of other countries don't want to live in America?

Batenhorst Heads Umbarger P-TA

Umbarger P-TA officers were elected March 15 at a meeting in the school hall. Mrs. Ben Koch was voted to head the organization.

Vice president is Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst, secretary is Mrs. Ray Gerber, historian is Mrs. Joe Wieck and parliamentarian is Mrs. L. L. Raef.

The outgoing president, Mrs. E. A. Stocker, announced the spring conference will be held April 16 at Dumas and four delegates were elected. The delegates are Mrs. Ben Koch, Mrs. Ray Gerber, Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst and Mrs. Joe Wieck.

Alternates elected were Ray Gerber, Mrs. Dennis Brandt, Ben Koch and Mrs. Max Hoffman.

It was also announced that the light bulbs are to be distributed during the coming week, and that anyone needing bulbs may place the order with the budget committee of which Mrs. C. J. Beckman is chairman.

The next meeting will be April 19.

Friday Concludes P-TA Classes

The last class session of the P-TA study course will be Friday morning from 9 to 11 a. m. in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Doyle Ragle, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will discuss character and religious education in the home.

Mrs. Armour Lee Marchbanks is chairman of the program and the hostesses are Mrs. Piner Stevens and Mrs. Velton Sogree.

Last Friday, Gladys Armstrong of West Texas State College, discussed home management. Mrs. W. E. Miller was chairman and hostesses were Mrs. Bernard Warren and Mrs. Wesley Cox.

Certificates for the course may be earned by attending a minimum of five sessions with extensive reading on subjects missed.

Last Rites for Mrs. Lora Black

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wallace were in Albany last week to attend funeral services for Mrs. Lora Black, mother of Harold Black and Mrs. Naomi Muse, formerly of Canyon. Interment was in Woodfield, Ohio.

Select Canyon For Annual Meet

Canyon will be the site for next year's annual Northwest Texas Conference Wesleyan Service Guild meeting. It will be held March 15 and 16, 1958.

The action was taken during the two-day conference guild session which closed Sunday in Snyder.

Canyon Methodists attending the conference were Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle and Mrs. E. J. Larson. Theme for the meeting was "The Spirit of Christ for all of Life." Featured speaker was Mary Lou Santillan of Holding Institute, Laredo.

Students Selling Bricks for Church

The Methodist Student Center at the college is sponsoring a campaign which the students at the center call the "Buy A Brick" campaign. This activity, the annual missionary project, is that of raising funds for a church on the island of Mindanao.

The students are hoping to sell 1200 bricks at $1 each by the end of May. A model church has been constructed on one of the walls at the center and each brick sold is marked on one of the bricks of the model.

A talent show and cake auction to raise money for the campaign have been planned for April 9.

The $1200 will be spent to buy the materials for the church which the students in the Philippine Islands have promised to build. The center decided to undertake the project after the Rev. C. L. Spottswood, a Philippine Islands missionary, visited the center.

Irby Carruth To Be Honored

Irby B. Carruth, superintendent of the Austin Public Schools and former Canyon superintendent, will receive an honorary doctor of law degree from Texas Christian University at May commencement exercises at the university.

The honor to Carruth will be an award for "outstanding work in school administration."

Since Carruth became Austin superintendent in 1950, the school system has almost doubled in size, with 22 new buildings to keep up with the booming city.

Carruth has been president of the Texas Association of School Administrators and is a member of the executive committee of the American Association of School Administrators.

Canyon Marines In Practice War

Marine Pfc Joe R. Britt, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Britt, and Pvt. Richard C. Busted, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Busted, landed on the Philippine island off Luzon on March 26 with the Third Marine Division in the largest ship-to-shore operation held in the Far East since World War II.

The week-long exercise started when the assault landing forces hit the beach in small landing craft. Other units hopped over simulated beach defenses in helicopters to capture key island positions.

The exercise includes more than 40 miles of hiking, practical application of tactics and techniques perfected during the Third Division's year-long training program, and living in the field under simulated battle conditions.

Knights of Columbus Celebrates 75th Anniversary With Special Day

Friday will be celebrated as Knights of Columbus Day in Texas by proclamation of Gov. Price Daniel in observance of the 75th birthday of the Catholic organization.

The Knights of Columbus was founded March 29, 1882, by a Catholic priest, Father Michael J. McGivney, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Parish in New Haven, Conn.

After officiating at the burial of a parishioner who had died leaving his widow and several small children destitute, Father McGivney met with the six pallbearers to discuss what could be done to help the families in such cases.

They conceived the idea, and with their bishop's permission formed a fraternal order of Catholic men to render aid and assistance to its sick and disabled members.

Two Attend WSCS Meeting in Abilene

Mrs. George Hill and Mrs. H. Doyle Ragle attended the 16th annual Northwest Texas Methodist Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting in Abilene March 20 to 22. Theme for the meeting was "Teach Us to Build."

bers, widows and children, and for promoting educational, charitable, religious and war relief work.

From the original six pallbearers, the order has grown to more than one million members.

In 1939, the council of the Knights of Columbus was organized at Umbarger. It numbers 114 members now. The present Grand Knight is Carl Kleuskens.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Now is the time for seeding native grasses where the cover is adequate. With plenty of moisture you can seed a mixture of native warm season grasses such as Blue grama, Side-oats grama, and Buffalo grass.

In a mixture based on pure live seed the following amount is recommended, Blue grama 1 lb., Side-oats 1½ lbs. and Buffalo grass 1 lb. The planting time ranges from February to May 1.

This grass mixture should be drilled with a grass drill in stubble cover to a depth of ¼ to ½ inch. Spraying or mowing regularly will control the weeds, until the grasses are well established.

If the pasture is not under the Soil Bank program grazing could begin after the grass is well established, but should not be grazed over 50% of the current growth.

By controlled grazing you should be able to establish a cover of grasses that will protect the land against wind and water erosion and provide grazing while improving the physical condition of the soil.

Recommended cover crops are close drilled sudan and sorghums. Plant these late enough to keep it from making seed. If it makes too much growth it can be mowed, but it is desirable to have about 12 inches of dead stubble to plant the grasses.

Cool season grasses should be planted in the fall and warm season grasses in the spring.

Seeding time and rates for different grasses may be obtained from your local Soil Conservation Service technicians.

Eggs, Beef Head Plentiful List

COLLEGE STATION—April has always been known as the noisiest month of the year so far as nature is concerned. Spring induces birds to sing, insects to drone and hens to cackle.

This April there will be an egg to match almost every cackle. The Agricultural Marketing Service says that April egg production is heading for a new high.

So eggs along with beef have earned the top spot on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's April plentiful food list throughout the country.

Record numbers of cattle in feedlots with plenty of grain to fatten them have produced unusually heavy supplies of quality beef—U. S. Prime, Choice and Good.

Two other meats—lamb and turkey—are also in heavier supply than they normally are in the spring.

Most plentiful vegetables in the area include Irish potatoes, canned sweet corn and canned beets.

Only fruits on the USDA plentiful list are canned purple plums and dried prunes.

Canyon Scouts Win Field Day

Canyon's Boy Scout Troop 66 topped other area troops for honors at the first Amarillo Area Field Day for Explorer Scouts held Friday and Saturday at Camp Don Harrington.

Spending Friday night and most of Saturday at the camp, 136 boys slept out in the wind and snow.

The Canyon troop won first, second and fourth places in the events, which were camping, communications, woodsmen skills, living off the land, first aid, orienteering and leadership. Events called off when the boys were sent home because of the weather were rifle marksmanship, archery, cooking and the obstacle course.

In third place in the meet was Post 72, Amarillo, and in fifth place was Troop 24, Amarillo. It was originally planned for the Field Day to continue through Saturday night and Sunday.

The Canyon troop, although in the Randall County District, was invited to participate in the event. Troop 66 entered three crews.

Crew No. 3, composed of Chuck Nester, Alan Hanks and Bill Cornette, amassed the top score with 750 points out of a possible 800. Roy Harris, Craig Hinger and Larry Brotherton made up Crew No. 2, which won second with 680 points.

David Arnold, Neal Lemmons, Malcolm Carter and Eddie Pettitt placed fourth with 532 points.

The crew of Harris, Hinger and Brotherton came in ahead in the field of woodsmen's skills. The object of the test is to chop a log in two pieces in the least number of strokes and saw a log through in the shortest possible time. The crew chopped a four-inch log in 10 strokes and sawed another in 12 seconds.

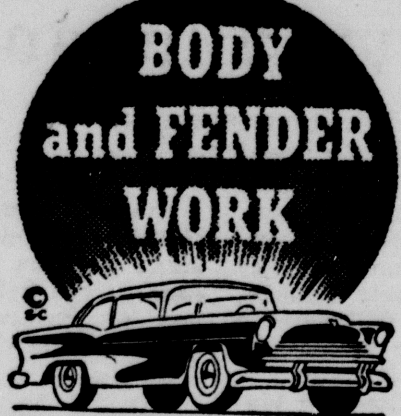

The crew of Hanks, Nester and Cornette received one of the two perfect scores made in signaling. The other crew from Troop 66 had the other perfect message.

The leaders from Troop 66 who were present at the Field Day were Explorer advisor Truman Laughery and assistant scoutmaster Raymond Haddock.
